State Again

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 1.—The executive council of the North Dakota Bankers' association after an eight-hour session last night pledged every possible co-operation with the Bank of North Dakota outside investment firms and other individuals to bring financial relief to the state.

That Congress be urged to take immediate steps to restore fair and equitable prices for grain and cattle by eliminating the cause which brought about the present demoralized condition.

That the bankers' association will assist the industrial commission in every possible way. The industrial commission directs the Bank of North Dakota.

That the association will give the Bank of North Dakota the hearty co-operation in carrying out the provisions of the initiated law.

That the association requests public members of the state to withdraw from the Bank of North Dakota only necessary funds and that sinking funds be paid to the Bank of North Dakota.

E. J. Weiser, president of the National Bank of Fargo, E. J. Peterson, O. S. Nelson, and C. H. Nelson, J. H. Early of Valley City as a committee to continue constructive work for the financial relief of North Dakota.

Sum Is Small

That the temporary suspension of 17 banks in the state since November 15 does not involve a great sum today. The largest bank to close had a capital of only $50,000, one had $25,000 capital and $20,000 capital and all of the rest were capital less than $10,000. The total capital of all banks combined is approximately $7,000,000, while the deposits in the bank at the time of recent closure were $51,000,000. Most of the banks are in good financial condition and the deposits have the further state guarantee of deposit.

The bankers' executive council found that the present financial situation in North Dakota was brought by abnormal world conditions, demoralization of grain and live stock prices and heavy importation from Canada.

The farm loan companies of the twenty cities that have for years financed the farm loan business of North Dakota and which were said to have withdrawn when the new political and industrial program was started and legislation passed such as the seed graft act, taxation of foreign credits and the law requiring the deposits of all public funds in the Bank of North Dakota have given the bankers' association of North Dakota assurance that they would return to the field and have sent strict instructions to their agents in the state.

Law Change Effect

These laws have been changed by the state of North Dakota, which has been established by the bankers' association and efforts of the farmer have never been doubted.

The North Dakota Bankers' association today extended an offer to the farmers of the state who are in session here to co-operate closely in all matters for the benefit of conditions.

A resolution presented to the farmers by Secretary Macfadden of the executive committee.

To State Branch National Wheat Growers Association.

The executive council of the North Dakota Bankers' association in regular session this afternoon extended greetings to all those in attendance at their meeting. The interests of the farmers, the bankers, the merchants and investors are always identical—what benefits one benefits all—and what injures one injures all. We are earnestly working to solve the problems that come to us and know that you are just as earnestly working on your problems. If we work conscientiously the results are sure to be right.

We hope that your meeting will result in real progress. The surest road to real and permanent relief is through intelligent co-operation by all citizens and all occupations. We pledge the support of the members to any and every possible constructive effort which has for its purpose the betterment of conditions affecting all industries, including the best interests of agriculture.

Resolution Adopted

Whereas conditions exist throughout the world which are abnormal in their solution requiring co-operation and forbearance on the part of all good citizens.

General Obregon has been taken of the reports from Havana that Pablo Gonzalez, Juan Barragan and other leaders of the Carranza regime were on their way to Texas from Spain where they sought refuge, after the overthrow of Carranza, but government officials said there was no reason why they should be denied.

O'CONNOR IS OPPOSED TO
EXTRA SESSIONCongressman-elect Buttress Declares Present Crisis Calls for No Legislative Interference

Grand Forks, Dec. 1.—J. F. T. O'Connor, a member of the state legislative assembly and O. B. Buttress, congressman-elect, and likewise a member of the legislature are decidedly against the proposition to repeal or modify any one of the five initiated laws approved by the people of the state at the November 2 general election, according to statements made by them yesterday.

O'Connor's statement made by Mr. O'Connor.

The passage of the initiated law by the people at the general election, which provides that political subdivisions of the state may deposit public funds in the Bank of North Dakota but strikes out the compulsory feature requiring all tax money to be deposited in the Bank of North Dakota is in no way responsible for the closing of banks in North Dakota.

The reasons are clear. First because the law is not effective until 30 days after the election, secondly no money has been withdrawn by the state bank from local institutions, thirdly, the political subdivisions will re-deposit the money in the local banks or leave it in the state bank, when the law becomes effective.

O'Connor states that the state bank examiner appointed by Gov. Frazier states that the initiated law is not responsible for the closing of banks. Therefore the repeal of the law would not correct the present condition.

When the people by direct vote have expressed themselves on legislation, a legislator must have weighty reasons to oppose the will of the people. There are no good reasons why any legislator should vote to repeal any of the laws passed by the people on Nov. 2.

Let there be no hastily and unwarranted withdrawals from the state bank. Let a thorough and complete examination of the bank be made at once as directed by the people on Nov. 2. The state bank does not belong to the Nonpartisan League. Let to the people of North Dakota. Let to the people of North Dakota.

WILSON ACCEPTS PLACE

His Decision to Act as Mediator in Armenian Situation
Brings Relief

Geneva, Dec. 1.—Austria was unanimously voted a member of the league of nations by the commission for the admission of new states here today. It is expected the assembly of the league will ratify this action.

Geneva, Dec. 1.—A letter to President Wilson accepting his offer to act as mediator in Armenia was being drafted by the council of the league here today. Mr. Wilson's note, which was received this morning, was read to members of the council at 10:30 o'clock and was received with marks of highest satisfaction.

Poor old Europe will feel less abandoned was a remark made by a member of the French delegation. The news gave the assembly great relief as the Armenian question had become a matter of the assembly.

There is much speculation as to what form the mediation of Armenia will take. A J. R. B. a leader of the British delegation recently remarked to the assembly that to negotiate it would be necessary to offer Mustapha Kemal, chief of the Turkish nationalists, something either money or territory and this remark is recalled in connection with Wilson's known opposition to the disposition made of some part of the Turkish territory by the Allies.

President Wilson's action is a big step toward a solution of one of the most serious problems before the assembly, said Lord Robert Cecil. That is wonderful news he declared. It brings relief to all of us who are trying to find a way to help Armenia.

It was announced this afternoon that Spain and Brazil had agreed to join President Wilson in his role of Armenian mediator. This offer has been embodied in a reply to Mr. Wilson framed by the council.

WANT A REPRESENTATIVE

COOPERATION GREAT AID TO DISTRIBUTION

Process Links Buyer and Seller Together in Profitable Manner

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—With co-operation and every possible method of application whereby it will be of benefit to the farmer studied in every detail, co-operation as it will affect by far the great number of persons—the consumers—has had little attention and publicity, according to Hugh J. Hughes, director of markets for the Minnesota department of agriculture. "If co-operation is to be a good thing for the farmer, to reduce the costs of doing business, and eliminate some middlemen who take the farmer's profits," he said, "these farmers co-operative associations will see that the farmer derives these benefits and the consumers will not be benefited."

The same logic that induces the farmer to organize and to replace a number of private concerns by his own co-operative association, suggests the wisdom of the consumer organizing for the purpose of co-operatively owning his own store, milk route and other agencies of consumer distribution.

"Such organizations hold a strong position in the commercial life of England and Scotland and scattered organizations of this kind are operating satisfactorily throughout the United States and Canada."

Possibilities Unlimited

"The possibilities are limited only by the ability to command proper business administration. Fully one-third of the entire population of Great Britain is enrolled in the membership of these co-operative societies, which in addition to their distributive stores, own and operate shoe factories, creameries, tea plantations, elevators and flour mills, as well as numerous other manufacturing agencies."

Mr. Hughes points out that co-operative organizations linking the producer and the consumer may be established so that an excessive profit that a middle man now is taking may be absorbed and distributed back to the producer and the consumer. He believes that there should be a close supervision by the state. A belief prevails that necessities of life are held by speculators to the disadvantages of producer and consumer. Mr. Hughes believes there should be close supervision with mandatory power to compel the owners of necessities of life to put the goods on the market as the goods are being held back in order to create a fictitious shortage.

Exceptional Profit

A business that offers an exceptional profit always attracts many persons to it. As an example of how the middlemen may become a drawback to both the producer and consumer, Mr. Hughes points out how too many men sometimes are engaged in work one might do better, also realizing the unnecessary workers for useful occupations.

The presence of a live stock buyer in a community may mean the efficient handling of live stock, but accompanied by an excessive profit to the private buyer. A second and a third and a fourth buyer may enter this community, lured by the profits they observe the first buyer is taking, and so divide up the business that in order to exist they will be forced to pay the farmer lower prices than the original buyer was paying, so that while no one is making a good living the community as a whole is charged the community more than one monopolist was doing.

In instances such as the foregoing the farmers' co-operative live stock shipping associations have been successful, he said. These associations now handle more than a half of the Minnesota live stock shipped to the terminal markets and are rapidly increasing. The plan eliminates many private buyers of cattle and the associations are beginning to realize that in order to employ a good manager they must pay a good salary to their live stock shipper.

STOCK SHOW TO ASSIST IN PRODUCTION

Better Breeding of Animals Object of Big Exposition in Chicago

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 1.—While one of the most important purposes of the International Livestock exposition, which is being held here, is to promote better breeding of livestock and consequently, the production of better meat animals, even more important than that perhaps, is the judging of meat itself, the result of better breeding and growing activities.

At the exposition this year the judging of the carcasses meat is being done by W. B. Margerum, a retailer of Philadelphia.

Expert Buyers

Prior to the show, individual cattle were slaughtered for the exposition. The carcasses represent what in the opinion of these expert buyers of the packers in the stock that will "dress out" to the greatest percentage and best quality of edible meat products. Then at the exposition he determines from which of the animals the best kind of produced meat of highest quality and finish, irrespective of the manner in which the animal has been fed or raised. Those carcasses as judged will then be placed on display at the exposition, so that livestock producers as well as the packers' representatives and retail butchers may have an object lesson in the best kind of animal to raise, buy and sell so far as the quality for meat value is concerned.

This judging of the carcasses differs from the judging of the animal on the hoof in that it does not take into consideration the fine points of breeding such as carriage and markings, or the quality of the hide or the worth of the other by-products. It is strictly the judging of an animal on its merits as the raw product for meat.

COMPENSATION BUREAU REPORT GIVEN PUBLIC

There were 723 accidents during the year on which claims were allowed. Total compensation of $159,941.56 was awarded, some of the awards to be paid over a period of years.

During the year the receipts of the bureau were shown to be $539,198.15 and the disbursements $121,603.09, leaving an excess of $417,595.07. The total estimated liabilities on July 1, 1920, were $317,000. The statutory surplus is given as $52,104.88.

Doughty Is Arraigned

Secretary of Missing Toronto Theatrical Magnate Given Hearing

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 1.—John Doughty, former secretary of Ambrose J. Small, Toronto's missing millionaire theatrical magnate, today was arraigned, charged with conspiracy to kidnap Small, and with the theft of $105,000 worth of Small's Victoria bonds the hiding place of which he revealed on his arrival today in custody from Oregon.

Doughty went to the home of Mrs. Thomas Lovatt, his sister, where he showed the authorities where the bonds were hidden. They were transferred to the police vault.

On arraignment Doughty made no statement, contenting himself with nodding to acquaintances. His counsel obtained a week's delay for pleading and the prisoner was sent to a cell, held without bail.

The victory bonds were said by the police to be still the "property of Small."

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK HEAD ESTIMATES THAT 46 PER CENT OF WHEAT HAS BEEN MARKETED

Tendency of Farmers to Hold Products Has Interfered With Processes of Liquidation—Heavy Runs of Cattle Noted Much Unfit for Market—Building Conditions Have Improved. Increase in Volume of Business Noted

Minneapolis, Dec. 1.—Chairman John H. Rick, of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, today issued the following report on crop and business conditions:

Grain Movement.

About 46 per cent of the total wheat crop of 148 million bushels for the Northwestern states had been marketed by the second week of November. This estimate is based upon receipts for the crop year of about 43 million bushels at Minneapolis and about 23 million bushels at Duluth, plus about 8 millions taken by outside mills. These figures are subject to a deduction of about 5 1/2 million bushels for wheat received from Canada. Receipts in October, with suitable deductions for Canadian imports, were about 5 per cent larger than for the same month a year ago and were about 3 per cent less than during the month of September. That such a quantity of wheat could move without producing marked liquidation is explained by the fact that a considerable portion of the receipts at terminals is covered by storage tickets and represents wheat which is not yet sold. Receipts of all grains at Minneapolis in October amounted to 25,367,879 bushels or 8 per cent greater than during the preceding month. Receipts of flax were more than double. The disposition of farmers to hold grain has been a pronounced factor in preventing normal liquidation throughout the entire district, and the inclination is to deliver grain at country points on storage tickets in the hope of a better market. Since the last report the course of all grain prices has been downward, and the grain held has already suffered considerable depreciation in value.

Comparison of Receipts

A comparison of Minneapolis receipts by cars during the first 25 days in November, 1920, with a similar period in October, 1920, and in November a year ago, follows:

	1st 25 days of Nov. 1920	1st 25 days of Oct. 1920	1st 25 days of Nov. 1919
All Grains	12,921 cars	14,712 cars	10,177 cars
Wheat only	9,359 cars	10,592 cars	7,614 cars

Stocks of grain in Minneapolis terminals on October 30 were 12,700,000 bushels and had doubled between October 2 and October 30. The combined stocks of Minneapolis and Duluth on October 30 were 21,400,000 bushels of all grains and were 50 per cent larger than the stocks at the close of September, but only three-fourths of the total stocks held a year ago. The combined wheat stocks, however, doubled during October, and at the end of the month were 9,300,000 bushels, and practically equal to those of a year ago.

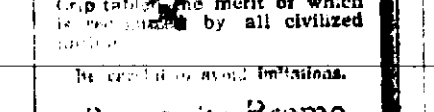

Agricultural Products.

There is a tendency to over-emphasize the importance of grain as a cash crop in the Northwest. The production of vegetables and dairy products has been very satisfactory this year as compared with last. The total production of potatoes in four states is estimated at about 43 million bushels as compared with about 43 million a year ago. The state of Minnesota alone produced in the whole of the year 1919 more than 153 million pounds of butter for the commercial market at a valuation of more than 80 million dollars. The cheese production was probably not less than 7 million pounds, with a valuation of not less than 2 million dollars. The total crop of apples in Minnesota this year is estimated at 1,382,000 bushels as compared with 1,365,000 bushels the preceding year, and the state of Montana has produced 1,155,000 bushels as compared with 1,239,000 bushels a year ago, or a total decrease for these two states of but 13 per cent.

The grain crops have not varied materially in their final results from the estimates made last month. The amount of corn that has been used for silage in North Dakota is estimated by government bureaus to be about 81 per cent of the total corn acreage, and in Montana about 7 per cent. In addition, Montana utilized 35 per cent of its corn acreage for forage and fodder, and about 6 per cent for grazing.

General Price Situation.

The public has talked more about the general decline that took place in agricultural prices during the month of October than about any other business development of the month. Prices of all grains except barley declined in October, and the declines have continued into the month of November. All live stock prices, except mutton and lambs, declined in October and the declines have continued into November. Probably this is the most significant development of the month. Wholesale produce prices in the Minneapolis market declined in October for meats, dry vegetables, and dairy and poultry products, other than eggs. Prices for Douglas fir for building purposes declined from 7 to 15 per cent for the various grades. Dunn's Review in quoting minimum prices on October 2 and October 29 for a selected list of 18 basic commodities entering into the manufacture of other articles as raw materials, showed declines in wheat, sugar, beef, hogs, hides, rubber, copper, spelter, lead, and pig iron; and of three selected textiles there decreases in serge and print cloths.

Banking developments in October.

Interest rates have been firm and practically unchanged during the month. Commercial paper is selling at 8 per cent as compared with 5 1/4 per cent last year, while customers' rate at banks is 7 1/2 per cent as compared with 5 1/2 per cent a year ago. The Ninth Federal Reserve bank, by borrowing from other federal reserve banks, was able to increase its accommodation to members about 5 million dollars during the month. Of this increase in total accommodation about one million dollars was taken in the form of note issues to facilitate the crop movement. All of this expansion of loans has been absorbed by country districts. A special investigation made on October 20 showed that the loans of Twin Cities banks to their country customers were about 50 millions more than a year ago, while the deposits of country banks with them had been drawn down about 35 millions as compared with a year ago. The net result indicates a movement to country districts of 15 million dollars more than a year ago.

Banking conditions on November 26.

A comparison of the statement of condition of the Ninth Federal Reserve bank on November 26, with that of November 5 shows a decrease in the total accommodation given, the Ninth Federal Reserve district of 1 1/2 million dollars, although nearly one million was borrowed from other federal reserve banks. Note issues declined more than one million, and member banks' reserve deposits increased slightly. Owing to the large amount of currency in transit at this time of the year, gold reserves decreased about three million dollars. The total accommodation given to the district on this date was about 198 millions. The combined reserve percentage was 39.5 per cent. Interest rates remained unchanged.

Flour receipts and shipments at Minneapolis and at Duluth indicate similar changes. The Minneapolis receipts are 12 per cent larger and shipments 18 per cent larger in October than in September. The Duluth receipts are 47 per cent larger and shipments 65 per cent larger in October than in September. October, 1920, shipments in Minneapolis are 83 per cent and in Duluth 70 per cent of the amounts shipped one year ago.

Live Stock.

During the month of October there were heavy runs from the west and grass-fed cattle predominated at all times. The quality of cattle received at the South St. Paul market was the poorest for a number of years for this season of the year. The feeder business did not show as much volume as last year. An increase in receipts, lowering of prices of grain and other commodities, and the unsettled labor situation in England, which was expected to curtail exports, were the factors contributing to the slump in hog prices. The strength in mutton, sheep, and lambs was due to a decrease in receipts in leading western markets, a realization that the run of satisfactory Westerns was drawing to a close for the season, and the expectation that the cumulative shortage so far this year will not be made up. The demand for stock cars in the northwest has been very heavy and serious complaint has been made of shortage in some places. This situation has been recognized by the Interstate Commerce commission by authorizing a preferential handling of stock cars; and shippers have been urged to assist the release and movement of such equipment. In clipping the limited number of stock cars that are available the railroads have probably shown a preference for moving range cattle in order to anticipate the coming of severe weather, and this policy is commendable. The October reports of the South St. Paul Stock yards covering receipts and shipments indicate a movement in hogs more than double that in September and 22 per cent larger than in October a year ago. When the total movement of all live stock is measured by the total of cars, the October increase over September is 10 per cent and the decrease from a year ago is 22 per cent. Cumulative receipts from January 1 to October 31 indicate a total movement somewhat less than last year. The October shipments of feeders from South St. Paul were but 75 per cent of October a year ago.

Building and Lumber.

Building operations when measured by the number of permits granted in the nine largest cities in this district improved in October as compared with September. The increase in number of permits was about 5 per cent and the increase in valuation about 43 per cent over the preceding month. However, this increase has not been sufficient to bring the October total up to more than about 75 per cent of that in the preceding year.

Mining.

Coal receipts in Duluth-Superior harbor for the month of October were 1,381,836 tons, or 56 per cent more than in September and about 20 per cent larger than a year ago. However, the cumulative receipts from the opening of navigation to October 31 were 14 per cent less than a year ago.

General Business Conditions.

There has been an increase in the volume of business in October as compared with September. The average amount of debits to individual accounts per week in clearing house banks in 11 of the most important cities in this district for the four weeks ending October 27, as compared with the five weeks ending October 1, increased 17 per cent and was also 11 per cent larger than a year ago. Owing to the general decline in prices known to have taken place during the month, these debits to individual accounts in October were largely a measure of increase in

THREE MILLION AID TO MEDICAL COLLEGES GIVEN

New York, Dec. 1.—The Rockefeller Foundation has announced the preliminary apportionment of $3,000,000 in aid of medical education in Canada, out of the $5,000,000 previously set aside for the purpose.

The apportionments now made of two classes: First contributions toward increasing the permanent resources in buildings and endowments of schools already well established. Second, contributions to annual income of institutions which are undergoing reorganizations. These allotments have been made:

- Vogel University, Montreal, $1,000,000.
- University of Toronto, $1,000,000.
- Dalhousie University Halifax, $500,000.
- University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, $500,000.

Schools in progress of reorganization to receive aid from the income of the $2,000,000 reserve are:

- University of Alberta, Edmonton, for the year 1920-21, $25,000.
- University of Montreal, 1902-21, $25,000.

Applications from these schools for further aid will be considered. Of the $2,000,000 reserved for future distribution, the income is to be used toward current expenses, fellowships and other forms of aid to medical education.

In each case the apportionments now announced represent contributions to plans of development, worked out by the institutions concerned, which involve substantial sums from other sources.

Visitors in City.

Mrs. F. J. Kavanagh and little daughter of St. Helens, Oregon, are visiting in the city this week, the guest of Mrs. Kavanagh's sister, Mrs. Win S. Mitchell, at 422 First street. Mrs. Kavanagh and children returning from a three months visit in St. Cloud, Minnesota, and other eastern points. She will return to her home the first of next week.

MRS. HUGHES AS HOSTESS

A social event of great pleasure and interest to friends of the hostess was the tea yesterday afternoon at the new home of Edmond A. Hughes and Mrs. Hughes, 33 Avenue A, when Mrs. Hughes entertained at a tea from four to six in compliment to her house guest Mrs. DeWitte of New York City.

Mrs. Hughes was assisted by her mother, Mrs. James Wakeman, and Mrs. C. B. Little. In a color scheme of yellow, relieved with pink tones the effect was most satisfying. Against a background of palest yellow walls, apple green wood trimming touched with black, the color note in candle shade, lights and flowers, made the effect most pleasing. The tea table at which Mrs. Little presided, was lovely in its soft light of yellow candles and cut flowers, as were also the reception and living rooms in which the hostess received her guests. Many women called during the reception hours to greet Mrs. Hughes in her new home and to meet and welcome her guest Mrs. DeWitte, many women having had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. DeWitte during her previous visit to Bismarck.

WAR MOTHERS MEET

Fort Lincoln chapter of War Mothers held their regular meeting in the Community room of the City library on Tuesday afternoon when a large number of members were in attendance. The report of the welfare committee was interesting, giving as it did, the success of the efforts put forth for Thanksgiving. Many kind and thoughtful holiday remembrances for the ex-service men in the hospitals were reported as coming from others than War Mothers and Legion men and the War Mothers offered a special vote of thanks for the expression of good will from the Bismarck people outside of the organizations specially interested.

Mrs. Orr was selected to represent the War Mothers on the board to take over the charge of the free public rest room for women now thoroughly established in Masonic temple. The board when fully organized from every group of women in town have plans for developing the movement to a place where it will be a real benefit to all women, both in town and the surrounding country, by means preferably, of a women's exchange where food may find sale, where tea may be served, etc. making it the kind of headquarters dear to all women, so that the very best energies of all women in every walk of life may be conserved to the greatest good.

FEATHERY FANS OF OSTRICH GIVE AIR OF ROMANCE TO EVENING GOWNS

BY CORA MOORE
New York's Fashion Authority.
New York, Dec. 1.—If you haven't at least one huge, soft, feather, colorful fan among your possessions, you may very well count your outfit for this season incomplete.

In the first place, the fans themselves are beautiful and in the second, many of the designers rely upon a fan to "bring out" a gown. Then, of course, there is the atmosphere of romance that is in the very suggestion of one of the graceful breezefans.

Of them all—the fans of rare old lace with sticks of carved ivory, exquisite Watteau things, and the hundreds of other varieties—the ostrich feather fans are the most favored.

Here are three beauties belonging to three Universal stars. One, that of Carmel Myers, is fashioned of six heavy plumes in marvelous new tint, exactly that of the Honey Dew melon. Gladys Walton's fan is creamy white to match her white and gold embroidered frock. Straight feathers it has with sticks of white bone, while Priscilla Dean's fan is one of ostrich feathers attached to a long stick of ebony their tips curling over with their own weight, like so many huge long-stemmed chrysanthemums. It is all in shades of brown.

SENATE COMMITTEE PLANS TO AID AGRICULTURAL SITUATION IN U. S.

Washington, Dec. 1. Possible remedial legislation for agricultural interests will be considered at a joint meeting of the agricultural committee of the senate and house next Thursday. The senate committee went over the situation today and invited the house committee members to meet with them at that time to see what could be done to alleviate the situation caused by falling prices for farm products.

Senate committeemen said tentative suggestions for consideration included:

Revival of the war finance corporation and the opening of European markets for surplus products, some plan for extending credit to foreign nations and amendment of the federal reserve act to afford extension of credits on agricultural paper.

Senator Norris, Nebraska, said re-establishment of trade with Russia would be one means of relief. Senator France, Maryland, plans to introduce a resolution for that purpose.

Senator Harrison, Mississippi, indicated that congressmen from cotton states were ready to join with those from wheat and cattle states in pushing relief legislation. He said he wanted to see the war finance corporation revived and provisions made for government loans to the agricultural interest.

The government encouraged the farmers to make this crop, which was at a very high cost of production and the government ought to apply exceptional treatment to aid them," asserted Senator Harrison who said he had bills to offer dealing with the problem if the joint commission session reached no definite program.

The senator said he would also favor making property in the hands of the alien property custodian available to about $400,000,000 in bonds to extending credit to Germany to purchase surplus American products.

GRAIN GROWERS CITE WESTERN ASSOCIATIONS

Hold That Citrus Fruit Growers Plan Offers Way to Success

Fargo N. D., Dec. 1.—The wheat growers of North Dakota at their meeting yesterday adopted the following resolution:

Unanimously Adopted
Resolved, It behooves every citizen of our state to consider seriously every proposition that is made for the avowed purpose of increasing the peace and prosperity of those engaged in agricultural pursuits, therefore we, the grain growers of the State of North Dakota, assembled at Fargo on the 30th day of November, 1929, hereby, pledge ourselves to do every thing in our power to help develop a wheat growers organization, that it may be as capable of coping with the problems of the wheat growers of the country as the Citrus Fruit Growers organizations of the west have been to those engaged in that industry. We, therefore, invite the aid and cooperation of all people, regardless of profession or business to join us in our endeavors to build up an organization by means of which we may insure to wheat growers a profitable price for their products.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the North Dakota branch of the National Wheat Growers association, in convention assembled, that we heartily endorse the program as outlined and the action taken by the National Wheat Growers association, that they have had the courage to come out and demand a specific remuneration for their products based on the cost of production with a fair profit added, and also endorse their action in rejecting the plans prescribed by the millers wherein they proposed to delivery of grain upon an advanced payment of $1.00 per bushel to the farmers."

"Be it further resolved that at all future periods we exercise the prerogative of setting the price of our own products and not continue as in the past and accede to the wishes of the buyers in the world market and submit to prices dictated by them."

Wheat (Gambling) Condemned
"Be it further resolved, that we condemn all dealings in futures wherein no grain actually changes ownership, as unfilled for, and unjust to both producer and consumer, by causing undue fluctuations in price of food stuff; That we express our appreciation of the assistance given us by the Federal Farm Bureau, by their kind assistance in perfecting our organization."

"Be it further resolved that we recommend to the National Board of Directors to devise ways and means of financing the wheat growers during times of depression."

"Be it further resolved that we extend our hearty approval to the kind communication and offer of support extended to us by the North Dakota Bankers' association, now assembled in this city. None more than the farmer appreciates the financiers co-operation and none more than the banker knows the needs of the farmers.

"Be it further resolved, that we press our gratitude to you men who have come to our state from Oklahoma in behalf of the National Wheat Growers association, and also to the city of Fargo for permission to use this auditorium for our meeting."

G. Harrison Garnett, of Pembina county was elected state manager, George E. Duis of Grand Forks was chosen as director for North Dakota on the national board of the National Wheat Growers association.

Organizing Here
J. Wallman, of Regan organizer in Burleigh county for the county branch of the wheat growers association, said today that work of organizing is going on rapidly. He said that there was an erroneous report abroad that the cost of joining the organization is $25. He said the cost is two dollars and a half. One dollar of this goes to the subscription of the national journal, $1.00 is for the national organization, 75 cents goes to the county and 20 cents to the local organization.

Nearly one hundred Burleigh county farmers attended the meeting held at the city hall, at which the local organization was organized. All wheat growers, whether or not they are farm residents are eligible to membership, Mr. Wallman said.

CONTENTED?

Think of it; a really contented man has been found; a man who is perfectly satisfied with his lot in life and the condition in which he lives! And where do you suppose he is? Not in a marble palace or in a New York lobster house. He is in a penitentiary. He is in the prison at Raiford, Fla., where the state keeps its convicts on a farm and works them outdoors. This contented prisoner is a convict. He is a negro who is not worried by his lack of social equality with the white convicts and who is well fed, has a good bed and light work. He wants nothing more.

This negro has been in the prison 40 years, according to reliable authority, thought he was originally sent up to serve a term of just 18 months. But he liked the prison so well that when the time came for his discharge he refused to leave the place and has been there ever since.

Does this strange instance of a contented convict mean that the prison is so well conducted or that the convict himself is utterly lacking in ambition? Draw your own conclusions. There is probably a good deal of both in the conditions. The negro is lacking in ambition; most negroes are that, but he is also well provided for.

The Florida prison is well conducted, on the honor system and the food provided is good. The beds are good and it does not appear to be a prison because there are not high stone walls and no cell blocks with heavy iron bars and the prisoners are allowed considerable freedom.

How many wardens in the United States can boast that their prisoners like the place so well that even one of them stays voluntarily?

When it comes to making elections lively Greece holds an edge on Florida.

TWO ATTITUDES

"Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." Which half of this advice a man accords determines in large measure his religion, his politics, his scientific attitudes and his very diet.

To "prove" something is not merely to reason about it; but to experiment with it, to try it.

Conservatives are those who shy away from such experiments, perhaps because they realize that they often prove disastrous; and so they hold fast to the old theology, to establish methods in business and politics, to the beaten path in science, to traditional diets.

And, holding fast to tradition, the men who argue thus are able to hold together and cooperate easily on a traditional and accustomed basis. Their vision may be narrow; but they know where to find each other. So they get things done, they are "efficient" and make such progress as can be made by well-standardized efforts on a conservative basis.

Radicals accept the other half of the motto. They are restless to "prove all things" that may improve upon the present, and since they are looking for something different they are "visionary"—willing to see all sorts of possibilities that conservatives will not look at.

In wandering away from the beaten path they have wandered from each other, each searching more or less alone for a better way; and so they do not agree or work together very well, and when one of them is placed in power, if he is not weak, he is likely to be called self-willed or arbitrary, both because he is not accustomed to team work and because it is hard for others to see the goal he is aiming at. And since he is going a new way he will make blunders that seem to prove him inefficient. His career is likely to end in failure.

But if his vision was true it will not be forgotten, and after a while when people are used to it, even conservatives will understand and try to make it real.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

TIME FOR A NEW DEAL

Minot people who object to having the good name of their city traduced thruout the country by every loose-talking sensation monger who comes anywhere near this vicinity may well inquire whether or not there is really much fire behind these smoke clouds. Several searching questions are very pertinent at this time as follows:

Are there seriously immoral and lawless conditions in Minot?

Who or what is responsible for them?

Who is to be blamed for permitting bad conditions to continue?

Why are the evils complained of not corrected?

What are we going to do about it?

These questions furnish scope for a large amount of thinking, investigating and, if the first is answered "yes," for a great deal of improving.

The News yields to none in devotion to every worthy feature of Minot. But it does not believe that this city will be made better or its interests in anyway advanced by shutting its eyes to known evils and declaring virtue where everyone knows that the reverse exists. At the outset The News emphasizes that Minot is no worse than the average city in a similar position. However, that is no reason for ignoring the evils that are a source of danger and disgrace here.

The liquor traffic is, of course, notorious. Scarcely a day passes but drunken men may be seen reeling along the streets. The worst feature of this illicit business, however, is the effect upon the young people, especially the boys. A leading business man states that one night not long ago he passed a group of boys of about 15 years of age on the corner of Central avenue in front of the Sons of Norway building. They had a quart bottle of whiskey and were drinking the liquor. A short time later he passed the same spot and observed that the lads had drunk all the whiskey and were showing the effects of it.

Young girls are reported in all night restaurants—or those that keep open very late—long after the midnight hour.

Young boys are said to frequent pool and billiard halls in spite of the city ordinance. This ordinance says that it is unlawful for "any person under the age of 18 years," or any high school student who is a minor but even more than 18 years of age to be in any pool or billiard hall or bowling alley unless accompanied by parent or guardian. They may not be employed in such places. Reputable pool hall owners are reported objecting strenuously to visits from such minors.

The city curfew ordinance prescribes that all children under 16 must be at home after 9 p. m. unless accompanied by an adult or carrying a permit of parent or guardian. Is this rule observed?

These same conditions exist in many other communities but the matter under discussion is Minot's own problem and one that must be settled here without reference to any other place. In a city notably lacking in proper places of resort for the young it is especially necessary to remove as many as possible of the dangerous places or conditions that are shown to have a harmful effect upon the boys and girls.

Minot is to have a new chief of police. The advent of a new administration of the kind is a good time to start a new deal all round. This is said without any intention of disparagement of the work of Chief Lano. The department with its six men to cover a city of 11,000 people has not had a sufficient number of officers to handle its own police clientele to say nothing of the numerous transients of various kinds who contribute the bulk of the criminal cases here. Give the department a really sufficient number of officers of the right kind so that the force will be adequate to cover the field, before generally condemning the work of the men of the star and blue. And then demand that a real cleanup be made and maintained.

Chicago has a new chief of police and one who seems, from first reports, to be of the right kind. He captured a notorious ring of robbers and recovered $265,000 stolen money as an initial move of his official career and is following it up with steps to make further cleanups. Why shouldn't Minot engage a man of the same stripe, eliminate politics from the case and see that the police department goes ahead and makes a really thorough effort to clear out the notorious lawbreakers and the places that are their fields or strongholds? Until Minot people insist that some such course be followed they cannot complain if the numerous crimes reported here are noised abroad and made the subject for criticism.—Minot Daily News.

Nancy Has Her Hands Full

While Nick was trying his best to get poor Scribble Scratch awake, the pupils of Meadow Grove School were having a most lively time of it during the little schoolmaster's absence. Nancy was doing all she could to make them behave, but Wasp Weasel (who was responsible for the whole thing, having squeezed bitter-sweet juice in Scribble Scratch's cream that morning as he passed on his way to school, which put the fairyman to sleep at the breakfast table) was having the time of his life.

Nancy was doing all she could to make them behave

He stared at Chirk Chipmunk till Chirk shivered as though he had chills and fever. And when he wasn't looking at Chirk, he was taking faces at Flop Fieldmouse and Muff Mole. He hit Cutie Cottontail in the eye with a paperwad and dipping the tip of his tail into Wobbly Woodchuck's ink, splashed it over everybody. They do and they call his Mr. Ermine, his tail tip stays black.

But that day, he was perfectly dreadful, he acted so smart, and the others, although not so much themselves, began to act as he did. You know it only takes one naughty boy to upset a whole school, and that was the way it was that day in Meadow Grove.

The corners were all full and the "uncle caps" all used up; there were about 40 names on the blackboard for staying in and doing words after school, and I'm sorry to have to say it, but poor Nancy was driven to ask Bud Beaver to please go out and bite off a branch for her.

HIBBING TO BE REBUILT

Location of New Town Will Be One Mile South of the Former Site

Hibbing, Minn., Dec. 1.—Rebuilding of Hibbing, the town that gained fame as "the richest village in the world" is now nearly half completed and within another year it is believed that a greater part of the original townsite of 12 1/2 acres will be bare of usable buildings.

Actual work on the project was begun in the spring of 1918 after mining companies of the Mesabi range, which owned the mine it rights, the section, had decided to exploit the immense deposits of iron ore underlying the old Hibbing village. When mining operations will begin is uncertain.

The location of New Hibbing will be nearly a mile to the south of the former townsite and plans call for a bigger and better village covering approximately 120 acres of land.

Although people have talked of "moving the town," that is not an actual fact. Some buildings are being taken from about sixteen city blocks of the original Hibbing, two and three-story structures, being mounted on heavy trucks and towed to their new location by tractors, but the greater part of the town will be rebuilt in modern style. The plans call for modern business houses on both sides of the main street, six blocks in length.

Fully two-thirds of the old town will remain untouched—the Pillsbury and Southern additions. The space between the older part of Hibbing and the new town contains a park and plans call for the remainder of the gap to be built up with modern business houses and substantial dwellings.

LEAGUE SENATOR ASKED TO STATE HIS POSITION

Rugby, N. D., Dec. 1.—O. H. Oksendahl, Nonpartisan league senator from Pierce county, is asked by the joint campaign committee to state whether or not in the coming session of the state legislature he will consider himself bound by the Nonpartisan league secret caucus, or whether he will represent the people of Pierce county. Pierce county has in the last two or three elections declared very strongly against the Nonpartisan league and league laws.

The letter to Mr. Oksendahl follows:

"At a meeting of the joint campaign committee of Pierce county held last week, the question of recalling you was taken up and considered. It was a matter not brought up against you personally, as an individual, but as to whether or not you as state senator from Pierce county, represented the majority of voters of this county. We finally decided to put the proposition up to you.

"Did the returns from the June primaries on all the referred and initiated laws show that the people approved of the Townley laws?

"Again, in the November election did not the vote on the initiated laws on the governor, legislature, the official newspapers, as well as the county officers, show that the majority of the voters disapproved of Townley laws?

Now then, will you at the coming session of the legislature, be willing to go down to Bismarck and by your vote and acts represent the majority of the people of Pierce county, using your own best judgment when it comes to a vote, and not attend any secret caucus or be bound by any such diabolical secrecy, but come out in the open and then and there make known your stand, either for or against any measure. If you do this we will feel that we were justified in saving the tax-payers the expense necessary to a recall election and that Pierce county will have a fair, honest and impartial representation in the senate.

"Kindly let us have a reply at your earliest convenience, as it seems to us that the citizens of this county should have your stand on this matter."

"JOINT CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE"

GUERNSEY CATTLE BRING BIG PRICES

Minot, N. D., Dec. 1.—O. K. Spires, owner of the Cherryvale Guernsey farm, at Burlington, has twenty-seven head of Guernsey cattle, including 26 grades and a purebred bull since Oct. 1 at an average price of $169.44. These include cows, heifers, and heifer calves. Eleven cows were sold for $250 each. The twenty-seven head brought Mr. Spires $4,575.00.

F. O. Bacon, of the Farmers Implement Supply Co. of Minot, purchased 20 of these cattle from Mr. Spires for $3,100.00 and has placed them on his dairy farm near Granville.

Mr. Spires has nothing but purebred Guernseys left on his farm. He has 28 head of the choicest Guernsey cattle to be found in the west and has built up his herd at a great deal of work and considerable cost. In June he bought May Rose Lady of Minot, a pure bred heifer from the Person Stock farm for $1,000.00. This heifer at one year and 11 months old had a record of 477 pounds of butterfat a year.

Thousands have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because of kidney trouble. It is so common to the American people and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, small and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer, 1010 Birmingham N. Y. or to your sample bottle. When writing Y. C. or sample bottle. When writing Y. C. or sample bottle.

BOOZE WOULD LAST 36 DAYS AT OLD RATE

Kramer Fights Move to Free Stocks for Personal Use

BY GEORGE B. WATERS N. E. A. Staff Correspondent

Washington, Dec. 1.—If all the liquor in bonded warehouses was put on the market, it would last only 36 days if Americans should drink at their old rate. There would be less than a half gallon of booze per person, and in the good old days the people used to drink, in terms of straight whisky, at the rate of five gallons a year for each man, woman and child in America.

At the present time there is in storage the following liquors:

	Gallons
Whisky	46,444,071
Rum	17,919
Gin	992,513
Brandy	831,396
Total	49,384,899

Have Two Views

Owing to the fact that this liquor would disappear in a hurry, it has two views as to what to do. The enforcement division here in regard to recent decision of the supreme court in the William G. Street case, in which Street was permitted to withdraw his booze from a New York commercial warehouse for personal use.

One view is that the Internal Revenue bureau should open wide the flood gates and let the booze be withdrawn from the warehouses as quickly as possible. The other opinion is that the bureau should construe the right to withdraw liquor for personal use in cases exactly like the Street case, and draw the lines still tighter around the booze in the bonded warehouses.

The view taken by John Kramer is that the liquor in the warehouses should not be turned loose. The ruling is now being prepared. That Kramer's view will prevail is a good bet.

The present supply of liquor will last only two more years at the rate it is being withdrawn under "strict enforcement." When the 18th amendment took effect, Jan. 16, 1920, there were 71,000,000 gallons of liquor in storage, and in less than a year 6,000,000 gallons had been drawn out for "medical, scientific and sacramental purposes." Only one distillery is now running.

What It Would Cost

If Uncle Sam would let it be drawn out for beverage purposes, the owners would pay the government $210,000,000 in tax at the rate of $3.47 a gallon. But if the government refuses to let it be withdrawn for beverage purposes, the government will get $204,000,000 less, or about $100,000,000.

Many of the banks hold booze warehouse certificates as collateral for loans. There is probably less than $50,000,000 loaned on these certificates. If they were redeemed the money paid into the banks would relieve the present money stringency a little. But ultimately it would only mean there would be shifting of money from the hands of those who drink to the hands of those who own or hold the certificates.

HUSBAND A "VAMP"

But Dorothy Gish Makes Him So Have in New Film

"Dorothy Gish's screen husband in her latest film farce, 'Remodeling Her Husband' coming to the Elitine theatre tonight is somewhat of a 'vamp,' with a weakness for pretty faces. His philandering gets him into trouble during the first weeks of his married life and lively Dorothy leaves him. But she doesn't come weeping home to mother, as disillusioned brides are supposed to do. She goes to work in her father's business house and inherits enough of his business sense and common sense not only to be a real help to him, but to bring her wayward hubby to terms also.

The action in 'Remodeling Her Husband' is laughable and rapid. James Hennie, who came into prominence recently as a stage player, makes his screen debut as Miss Gish's leading man. Lillian Gish directed the picture, which is a Paramount Artcraft release.

OFFER HINDUS HOMES

Invited by Amir to Settle in Afghanistan.

First Time in History Such a Concession Has Been Made by Ruler of the Country.

New York.—The amir of Afghanistan, for the first time in history, according to Dr. N. S. Hardiker of the India Information Bureau here, has invited Hindus to settle in his country, to accomplish which he has announced the following royal concessions, said to indicate a movement for the unification of the peoples of Asia:

1. Noninterference in the observance of Hindus' religious beliefs.
2. Freedom of Hindus to travel and settle in any part of the country.
3. Government protection of Hindu homes.
4. Hindu representation in the Afghan assembly.
5. Unrestricted travel permitted Hindu women.

There are more than 200,000,000 Hindus and 70,000,000 Moslems in India, and a hijrat, or exodus of many of the latter to Afghanistan, according to Dr. Hardiker, already is under way.

"The proposals of the amir are aimed," he said, "at dispelling the notion that Afghanistan is partial to Islamism. The proclamation clearly shows that all freedom and protection will be extended to Hindu subjects and that no interference will be exercised in the religious observances of the Hindus, however much these may differ from the beliefs of the Mohammedans and Afghans. The amir undoubtedly is endeavoring to promote a better feeling between Afghanistan and India."

JEW LEAVE POLAND

Increasing Exodus May Take 250,000 Out of Country.

Many Driven Out by Hostility Come to United States—American Relief Is Held Up.

Gratz, Poland.—An exodus of Jews from Poland, which has been steadily increasing for many weeks, has reached such proportion that Polish army officers say it is certain that more than 250,000 soon will have left. Most of them are bound for America.

The Poles, who are frankly and bitterly hostile toward the Jew, make no objection to their departure, but they criticize what they assert is the attitude of the joint distribution committee of America, which has many motor trucks and large supplies throughout Poland.

When a number of trucks and automobiles of this committee arrived here the military authorities refused to permit them to proceed or move about in this area, saying accusations had been made that these trucks were carrying contraband over the German border under the protection of the American flag and that there was evidence the committee had assisted Jews who were liable for military service to leave Poland. Proof of these accusations was requested by the correspondent but it was not furnished.

The employee of the joint distribution committee in charge of the detachment of trucks here appealed to American army officers in Gratz to use their influence to have the trucks released, but the officers declined to interfere.

A French officer attached to the French military commission here said his government had adopted a policy of expediting the departure from France of the large number of Jews going to America and that while many of them would be content to live in France, virtually none of them would remain.

Polish officials say all of the Jews in several towns and villages in Posen, Poland, have departed, en route to the United States.

WAR'S TOLL IS FORTY MILLION

Leaves a Considerable Disproportion Between the Sexes in Europe.

Washington, D. C.—The total loss of actual or potential lives on account of the World war is put at nearly forty million in an estimate just furnished to the American Red Cross by the League of Red Cross Societies. Of this total, however, it is estimated that something more than one-half is represented by unborn children.

The mortality of women between the ages of eighteen and forty-five has been low, and there is now a considerable disproportion between the sexes in Europe. The consequence is that a high proportion of women no longer can get married.

Fifty per cent of the women in France cannot become married it is estimated. There is now a surplus of about 1,500,000 French women under forty-five.

COUPLE END BUGGY TOUR

Go From Milwaukee to Portland, Ore., With Horse—Takes Four Months.

Portland, Ore.—In these days when nonstop limiteds make the trip across the continent in about five days, and automobiles in a week or little more, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Howard of Milwaukee chose to make the trip from their home to Portland, Ore., in a horse and buggy.

It took them four months to make the journey and they suffered no mishaps, though Mr. Howard is seventy-four and his wife eighty-three. The purpose of their trip was to visit a son, C. J. Howard of this city.

Wife Lives in Jail, He Moved.

Lexington, Ky.—Because his wife is living in the jail and because his father-in-law is custodian, Rodney Haggard, lawyer and wealthy businessman, indicted for the murder of Ben Good, young clubman, has been moved from the Clark county jail at Winchester to the Fayette county jail here. Haggard's wife is suing for divorce and $20,000 alimony, alleging that her husband injured her good name in the killing of Good and her conduct with Good was no occasion for the tragedy. Her father is jailer and she went home to him after the shooting.

Re-Wed After 30 Years.

Miami, Okla.—Thirty years ago Scott and Emma Jane McCollum were divorced, following their marriage, because they could not agree. The other day they were remarried. "I got kinda homesick for Emma Jane," Scott confided to the justice of the peace who remarried them. The couple have several children. He gave his age as fifty-five and she forty-eight, in applying for the second license.

She refused to get married. The groom remonstrated. The bride persisted. And they didn't get married.

Robins Eat Too Many Worms.

South Norwalk, Conn.—Robins in Norwalk have the gout, so Thomas F. Walsh, the dog warden and well known local naturalist says. A superabundance of worms brought to the surface of the ground by recent rains have caused the robins to gorge themselves, the naturalist says.

POLAND SAVED BY THE FRENCH

Prompt Aid Said to Have Prevented Triumph of the Bolshevik Armies.

POLES SHORT OF OFFICERS

Russian Army Superior as an Effective Fighting Machine—Polish Officers Admit That the French Saved the Day.

Posen, Poland.—An official of the French military mission in Poland has told the Associated Press correspondent that the Polish army would have been conquered by the Bolshevik armies of Russia if the French had not supported the Poles. This, notwithstanding the fact that the Poles beat back the Russian drive on Warsaw.

The French official based his statement upon his belief that the Russian army was superior to the Polish army as an effective fighting machine, with the exception of the German-trained troops of Posen.

The Frenchman said he believed the Russian organization has been, and still is, underestimated and because of this tendency to belittle the Russian armies the menace to Poland's existence, if not to all western Europe, remains imminent and real.

Russ Army Not Rabble.

The official said some Russian units were poorly equipped, but it was not true the army was "a barefoot rabble." He was convinced the majority of the Russian divisions were "well-organized units of good fighting men, much better officered than the Poles."

The Poles had 25,000 officers, but only 5,000 of them ever went to the front, although they were sorely needed there, he said. There was evidence that certain Polish companies had fought without officers, he asserted, but that during the retreat these were without commanders.

An American artillery officer who had spent a year in Russia and had been under fire at the Polish front, told the correspondent he had seen the Poles "plant their artillery in the most ridiculous places, on the exposed sides of hills and right in the open, when they could have readily concealed it and made it effective."

A neutral aviator who had flown over the front several times when "battles" were said to be in progress, said what he saw of the fighting was "two armies keeping about three hours apart, the Poles retreating when the Russians advanced, and the Russians running when the Poles turned and advanced."

Admission Made by Poles.

He said this "schedule sometimes got disarranged, and that there was a collision between opposing detachments," but he had not witnessed any of these clashes.

NIPPONESE IS MENTAL MARVEL

Jap Writes With Both Hands, Talks, and Does Other Things at Same Time.

ONLY TWO OTHERS LIKE HIM

He Can Think and Do a Number of Diverse Things Simultaneously—Was Anything but Phenomenon as a Boy.

London.—An amazing person is Tameo Kajiyama, the Japanese mental marvel, who has been appearing at the London Coliseum. Most of us have been taught that no one can do more than one thing at a time. Kajiyama is a striking instance to the contrary, a writer in the continental edition of the London Mail says. He defies all copybook maxims about concentration on the one matter in hand and to more. He can think and do a number of totally diverse things simultaneously. While under a fire of questions he reads a paper and writes backward on a screen with enormous rapidity of the news of the evening. And all the time part of his mind is busy solving arithmetical problems set him by the audience involving the extraction of cube roots of various numbers. He writes with equal facility with either hand or with both hands backward, forward or upside down, different sentences at the same moment that he is talking about something else.

He asks his audience for five names of seven letters. They shout them at him: Randolph, Porten, Roberts, Phenot, Mance. In a flash he writes backward, a jumbled mass of characters containing all the 35 letters. These resolve themselves in precise progression into the five names chosen.

I have only known of two cases in any way parallel to it.

Only Two Others Like Him.

One was a Babu station master in India who would send off telegraph messages with his foot while he was taking down another message with his typewriter and at the same time talking about other matters.

The other case was that of the late Roy Stanton Moses, founder and first president of the London Spiritualist alliance. I have seen him writing different messages with both hands while he was talking to me. In his case he ascribed the faculty to supernatural agency and believed his hand to be controlled by spirits.

If Kajiyama, whose powers are far in advance of those two, claimed supernatural assistance, many people would believe him. He might have been burned at the stake in another age, but now assuredly he would be feted by spiritualists.

But he makes no claims of the kind nor does he think that he possesses any faculties that might not be acquired by anyone else who takes the trouble to cultivate them.

Thirty-six years old, with a quiet, measured, almost deprecatory manner, pleasant, dreamy voice and wild eyes, all the mystery of the East is concentrated in his subtle countenance. He speaks slowly, melodiously and softly. You might imagine him a lone eater and never guess that beneath the calm exterior a quick and agile brain is working at a speed and in a manner that to the ordinary man seems little short of miraculous.

Was No Boy Prodigious.

He is a contented and nonsmoker and is married to an Englishwoman. As a boy he will tell you he was nothing but a phenomenon. At ten he could not do the simplest sums in arithmetic. He had a stern father, who used to mete out punishment justly and unmercifully.

They have a pretty little method in Japan. It consists of putting little bits of burning flax down the neck.

Kajiyama is a frequent experience of this contrivance and bears the marks on his body. But he is not a bit of a coward. He is a very brave and with a passion for knowledge and long to be something a little better than his fellows.

Mental concentration is an exercise much prized in the East, and Kajiyama learned to concentrate. It was a slow process. A little more every day, something fresh every day. Now he is a command. He will the capacities of his brain switch off or on the various currents of thought and make good use of the gas matter or form as needed. He is master of his mind.

Kajiyama has a theory that there are all sorts of unexplored possibilities lying dormant in the brain. He does not think he has come to anything like the limit of his capacities. He is always experimenting, to explain his views on mental efficiency and concentration to schools or to educational authorities.

SELECTION OF EASTERN CHAMP REAL PROBLEM

No One University Stands Out With Remarkable Record for Season

New York, Dec. 1.—The close of the Eastern college football season finds the task of selecting a champion eleven more complicated than usual.

In past years it has frequently been the case that one varsity team, with a remarkable record, stood out so prominently that it was the choice among many gridiron experts. Such a situation does not now exist.

Six college or university eleven met no defeat, but in the case of five the record was marred by one or more tie games. Boston College is the only one which has a clean slate and that team is to meet the strong Holy Cross eleven Saturday.

Five Eleven Undefeated
Harvard, Princeton, Pittsburgh, Penn State and Stevens closed their schedule undefeated, but the tie contest between Princeton and Harvard left the question of supremacy unsolved. Penn State tied with Pittsburgh and Lehigh; Pittsburgh was tied by Syracuse and Penn State, while Middlebury held Stevens to a scoreless tie.

It can be stated that if a championship team were to be selected it would be found among the combinations enumerated.

A second group but thinly separated from the first division would naturally include Dartmouth, Syracuse, Navy, Army, Brown, Holy Cross, Lehigh, Williams and Yale.

Army First in Scoring
An analysis of the records of the various eleven develops interesting and confusing data. West Point although defeated by the Navy and Notre Dame, rolled up an aggregating score of 314 points, which gives it first place in the scoring.

Williams is next with 312 points, although defeated in three out of the eight games.

From a defensive standpoint, Boston college appears to hold the palm, as the players held their opponents to 16 points, of which Yale made 13 and Marietta 3. Syracuse was next with a low opponent score of 27, while Harvard was a close third with 28 points.

LATE WINTER KEEPS GOLFERS BUSY ON LINKS

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1.—Golf players did not put away their sticks for the season until the end of November, favorable weather permitting play even though the courses were not in the best condition.

Later in the year many players will continue to use their drivers and putters. A number of local clubs have arranged for indoor driving tees and putting greens, on which players may keep in form until spring weather brings outdoor playing conditions.

HEYDLER WILL HELP LANDIS OUST CROOKS

New York, Dec. 1.—John A. Heydler, president of the National League, will aid in efforts of Judge Landis, new head of organized baseball, to clean the game of dishonest players, he announced today.

It is the duty of every direct participant with baseball, he said, "to lay before Judge Landis not only all the proof he may have against dishonest men of the profession, but all the rumors, or names of those circulating rumors."

Mr. Heydler said the names of many players had been associated with the grasp since the scandal of the 1919 world's series had been uncovered. He has made a list of the names, many of whom are National League players as well as every one he could connect with going.

"I intend to present them," he added, "as well as certain investigations I have made, to Judge Landis. I am sure the American League and all the minor leagues will pursue a like course."

GAS STANDARD TO BE SUBJECT OF CONFERENCE

The question of the standard required heat units to be furnished by gas companies in the state will be one of the important questions to be discussed at a conference called by the North Dakota railroad commission on December 6.

The commission has tentatively established the following requirements: 525 British Thermal Units per cubic foot within a mile of a manufacturing plant; a minimum requirement for all purposes of 500 B. T. U. and a maximum of 550 B. T. U.

The rules promulgated by the commission subject to the action at the conference also provides that gas companies must install suitable testing outfits so that they can test the supply of gas at all times.

River Is Falling

The Missouri river is dropping rapidly as the ice is running out. Weather bureau readings showed that the river had dropped about three feet since the high point reached Sunday after the ice went out. There are no ice dams reported at any river points.

The open air school is comparative-ly a new agency in public health work. There are over 500 of them all over the United States. In the balmy south and sunny west they are at their best, but they are not by any means confined to what might be called the milder climates. In our own North Dakota they have been held throughout the coldest winters for many years. The combination of rest work and play in the open has been productive of the best possible results.

The North Dakota Anti-Tuberculosis association conceived the idea and at our state sanatorium equipped and furnished a porch's hotel room, engaged a teacher and defrayed all of the expenses connected therewith. The results have for several years been all that could be desired. Blankets, robes, sleeping bags and fur wraps will defy even 40 below zero. The ruddy glow produced by an hour of winter sunshine and the glass of hot milk do wonders for the pupils. Christmas Seals made it possible. Think of a little unfortunate being helped back to health and usefulness. When the seal sale is on in your town push it along.

Another open air school under the supervision of our secretary reported as follows: "At the end of the term every child was in the pink of physical condition. Mentally the young people were alert and made splendid records. Each one doing two years work in six months time."

Buy Christmas seals and have a part in this excellent work.

INTERNATIONAL VETS COUNCIL IS ORGANIZED

Soldiers of Allied Countries Are Drawn Together in Organization

Paris, Dec. 1.—An international council binding together the war veterans' associations of the allied countries was organized here today by the delegations representing the United States, France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Greece, Jugo-Slavia and Czechoslovakia, and was joined later by Poland, and Rumania.

The council will be composed of one member each from each country and will probably meet in Paris as often as necessary. The organization contemplates membership of national veterans associations.

The underlying idea is to preserve, particularly in time of stress, the unity that existed among the allies during the war and carry on the comradeship in various ways, by international membership cards, an international memorial day and the exchange of information respecting disabled soldiers and the widows and children of soldiers. It is expected that the American Memorial Day will be adopted generally.

The plan of organization which will be submitted for approval at a full meeting tomorrow, specifies that the council will be directly represented in each country of the allies by two veterans of that country appointed by the council and approved by the veterans. Organization of that country, one of these veterans to be accredited to the government of that country and the other to the press. They will simply be channels for the transmission of memorials formulated by the council. Such memorials must be approved by the veterans' organization of that particular country and must be of a friendly nature, never threatening.

L. S. Is Represented
The veterans of the United States were represented today by seven members of the American Legion Posts in Paris and London, chosen by the national commander. They included Colonel Solbert, military attaché at London.

The Greek delegation was unable to take an active part in the proceedings. Two of its members were Venezuelans and the other two royalists, and they were unable to agree.

KRALL, The Tailor

her advice, the state's dairy products would be valued far in excess of their present rating of $20,000,000 annually. "It has been proven by experiment," Mrs. Smith said, "that the net amount of milk obtained at one milking, is sometimes increased by as much as two quarts by the influence of music." But bossie is particular as to the instrument that furnishes the music. The violin produces best results, Mrs. Smith said, and in one experiment the bovine showed marked object to the strumming of a ukelele. "The best means of meeting this suggestion," she said, "is to install cheap phonographs with plenty of violin records in the dairy barns."

You Get the Money

The money that is spent to advertise the goods you buy, comes to you. Once many people had the idea that goods advertised must be more expensive than goods for which no money was spent in advertising.

That is about as sensible as saying it costs more to make goods by machinery than by hand, because you have to buy the machine.

Without advertising you have to sell goods "by hand." Just as a machine will make ten times, or a hundred times, as many articles as can be made by hand; so advertising sells ten times, or a thousand times, as many articles as can be sold "by hand."

For instance: A merchant buys a stock of a certain line of goods. He spends a thousand dollars for these goods. Occasionally some one buys one of them, but most of his thousand dollars stays on the shelf. He must sell to make a profit, he must sell to be able to buy more goods, he must make sales to stay in business.

So he divides his profit three ways, one-third for himself, one-third for Advertising and one-third in price reduction for you.

His advertising sells these goods in a few days. He has made one-third as much profit in six days as he would have made in six months if he had not advertised. He has shared his profit with you in return for your giving him your business.

Both of you make money; both of you save money.

There's no use arguing, you KNOW it pays to read advertisements.
